

RAISING CHILDREN WITH CARE * RAISING CHILDREN TO CARE

The Center for Nonviolent Education and Parenting Would like to invite you to

An In-depth Training for Staff of Domestic Violence Shelters in our unique concepts and principles of nonviolent child raising.

Training Details:

- Gain knowledge of the philosophy and tools used in nonviolent child raising
- Support mothers in building a sense of safety within the family and breaking the cycle of violence
- Tools that support both staff and mothers in their interactions with children and to cope with children's emotional pain and distress
- Strengthen their understanding of child development
- Support mothers in building strong bonds with their children in order to protect and communicate with them in a time of stress
- Deepen their understanding of crisis and the feelings associated (e.g. denial, fear, shame, trauma, anger, grief, depression) to foster self awareness and emotional competency among parents
- Learn how to work with parents within the context of their immediate environment (e.g. Emergency Shelter, Transitional Shelter)
- Gain an understanding of the philosophy behind support group facilitation and acquire skills for effective facilitation
